

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMCAST CABLE'S EASTERN DIVISION AND THE PENTAGON CHANNEL DELIVER 2008 SERVICE ACADEMY GRADUATIONS ON DEMAND

Graduations from West Point, Naval and Air Force Academies to Feature Noted Commencement Speakers Including President George W. Bush and Military Elite

Oaks, Pa. (May 21, 2008) - Friends and family members unable to attend the graduation ceremonies of loved ones can now watch the commencements ON DEMAND thanks to a unique offering from Comcast and the Pentagon Channel. The two have partnered to bring coverage of this year's U.S. Service Academy graduations, including the U.S. Naval Academy, U.S. Air Force Academy and U.S. Military Academy at West Point, to Comcast Digital Cable customers throughout New Jersey, Delaware, southeastern and central Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C. via Comcast's signature Local Video On Demand service.

Each graduation ceremony, available no later than four days following the commencements, can be viewed through June 14th, allowing Digital Cable customers to watch them any time, day or night, with the ability to fast forward, rewind and pause selections at their convenience. Like all other Comcast Local Video On Demand programming, the military graduations are free of charge.

Customers can access "Graduations ON DEMAND" by tuning to Channel 1 on their digital cable lineup or pressing the ON DEMAND button on their remote control, then clicking on the "Get Local" category followed by the "Academy Graduations" folder. Each graduation ceremony profiled will feature distinguished speakers and the best and brightest of our nation's military services. The graduation ceremony schedule is as follows:

- May 23 – U.S. Naval Academy - Featured address from Admiral Michael Mullen, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (available by May 27)
- May 28 – U.S. Air Force Academy - Featured address from President George W. Bush (available by May 30)
- May 31 - U.S. Military Academy at West Point – Featured address from Pete Geren, Secretary of the Army (available by June 3)

"Offering military graduations ON DEMAND underscores Comcast's commitment to supporting the thousands of service members and their families throughout our footprint," said Michael Doyle, president of Comcast Cable's Eastern Division and founder of CN8, The Comcast Network. "We are pleased to partner with the Pentagon Channel to offer this relevant programming to our customers that Comcast is uniquely qualified to deliver."

"We appreciate Comcast's decision to carry the Pentagon Channel's coverage of the military service academy graduations," said Brian Natwick, general manager of the Pentagon Channel. "Their support helps us share the excitement and traditions of academy graduations with our military service members and their families."

From signature "Get Local" programs like Troop Greetings ON DEMAND, a service that allows military personnel stationed overseas to send special holiday greetings to their loved ones back home, to military-related investments, volunteerism and programming, Comcast helps connect service members and their families to what matters most in their lives.

Comcast's ON DEMAND service continues to be a one-stop destination for local and entertainment programming – available anytime a customer wants to watch, with the ability to fast-forward, pause or rewind. Comcast's expanding ON DEMAND library today offers more than 10,000 titles per month, the vast majority of which are free. Since 2003, Comcast customers have viewed more than seven billion ON DEMAND programs.

Comcast Cable's Eastern Division continues to lead the way with Local Video On Demand offerings in hundreds of categories ranging from pet adoptions to candidate interviews, missing children, high school sports, greetings from troop members serving overseas, and much more.
